1.11 : MEDICAL CERTIFICATE

Taking part in the SAHARA ALGERIA TREG®, an event in an unusual and extreme environment, requires, in addition to suitable training, good health at the time of your participation.

A medical certificate less than one year old must be completed by a doctor, together with an ECG (electrocardiogram) or a stress test in accordance with the following rules:

- ECG less than two years old (for all runners under 40 and for all local runners, regardless of age)
- Exercise test less than three years old for all runners over the age of 40

The medical certificate and ECG (electrocardiogram) must be sent to Isabelle Paucot by e-mail to i.paucot@le-treg.com by 15 September 2024.

In addition, runners must take the originals or a FULL copy of the documents (ECG / stress test) with them to the individual medical briefing.

It is important that you take the start of the SAHARA ALGERIA TREG® events in perfect physical condition, as a latent ailment can become much worse in the extreme conditions of the event, and make rescue even more difficult. The competitor undertakes to inform the medical team of any health problem, however minor, that he or she has encountered.

1.12: TECHNICAL AND MEDICAL CHECKS

Technical and medical scrutineering will take place on Sunday 27 October 2024, the day before stage 1, at the same time as the 1st briefing. Each competitor must present his compulsory equipment to the organisers, i.e. his race gear and medical kit.

Any runner who is not in possession of all his compulsory equipment will be immediately disqualified, without any possibility of appealing against this decision and without reimbursement of any expenses incurred.

1.13: BIBS

The bib must be worn on the chest or stomach and must be visible at all times throughout the race. It must therefore always be worn above any item of clothing and under no circumstances may it be attached to a bag or a leg. Partners' names and logos must not be altered or hidden.

1.14: RUNNER'S LUGGAGE

Each competitor must bring their own travel bag for their personal belongings (change of clothes, toiletries, etc.) and, if necessary, their race bag. The total weight of your luggage must not exceed 20 kg for your main bag and 5 kg for your hand luggage.

We recommend that you do not place valuables in them.

1.15: CONTROL AND EMERGENCY STATION

On the route, runners must pass through the checkpoints (PC's) located on the route of each stage. These checkpoints will allow competitors to refuel with water (up to a maximum of 3 litres per person).

1.16: SAFETY AND MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

A medical team specialising in this type of trail event will be present throughout the event.

The official doctor is empowered to withdraw from the race (by invalidating the bib) any competitor who is unfit to continue the race. He is empowered to evacuate any runner he deems to be in danger by any means at his disposal.

If necessary, for reasons that are always in the interests of the rescued person, the organisation will use all appropriate means to evacuate the person. The costs resulting from the use of these exceptional means will be borne by the person rescued. He/she may then submit a claim to his/her personal accident insurance.

Any runner who calls on the services of a doctor, nurse or first-aider submits to their authority and undertakes to accept their decisions.

Competitors are aware that in the event of extreme fatigue, their behaviour and decisions may be altered. It is the competitor's responsibility not to reach this state. The organisers cannot be held responsible for the consequences of any absurd or inconsistent decisions made by the competitor.

1.17: CLIMATIC CONDITIONS

Average temperatures in November: 27°C during the day, 10°C at night.

1.18: MAXIMUM AUTHORISED TIME AND TIME BARRIERS

A maximum time for completing the entire route is set for each stage of the SAHARA ALGERIA TREG® and will be communicated in the event road book.

These maximum times will be set so that a hardy walker can complete each stage.

Deadlines for the start of the PC's (time barriers) will also be defined and communicated in the RoadBook.

These time limits are calculated to enable participants to reach the finish within the maximum time limit, while making any necessary stops (rest, treatment, etc.). To be authorised to continue the race, competitors must leave a PC before the set time limit (whatever the time of arrival at the PC).

The organiser reserves the right to derogate from these rules in exceptional circumstances (delay of a competitor due to assistance given to another competitor, specific race conditions, etc.).

Any competitor who abandons a stage or who is disqualified will be repatriated by vehicle or minibus to the finish bivouac of the stage within time limits that the organisation cannot guarantee. They will be given a time penalty and will be able to start again on the following stages of the SAHARA ALGERIA TREG®.

In the event of adverse weather conditions and/or for safety reasons, the organisers reserve the right to cancel and/or stop the event in progress, or to modify the time limits.

1.19: ABANDONMENT AND REPATRIATION

Except in the case of injury, a runner must not abandon the race other than at a PC. He must then inform the person in charge of the PC, who will be responsible for organising his repatriation by vehicle or minibus to the finish bivouac where possible.

In the event of unfavourable weather conditions justifying the partial or total stoppage of the race, the organisers will repatriate the runners who have been stopped as quickly as possible.

In the event of a compulsory withdrawal between 2 PC's due to the competitor's physical or mental condition, the competitor (or another competitor assisting him/her) must use his/her mobile phone, which will have been configured beforehand to enable calls to be made or received in Ethiopia.

1.20: PENALTIES - DISQUALIFICATION

Inspectors on the course are authorised to check compulsory equipment and, more generally, compliance with the rules (respect for the sites, ethics, illegal assistance or accompaniment, bib not visible on the front at all times, etc.).

Any runner who is not in possession of all his compulsory equipment at a checkpoint on the course will be given a time penalty of 3 hours, with no possibility of appealing against this decision.

A minimum penalty of 6 hours will be applied for any other breach of the rules. The scrutineer notifies race HQ and, depending on the seriousness of the offence and the runner's behaviour, may request that the competitor be disqualified. The race jury may disqualify a competitor for any serious breach of the rules, in particular in the event of :

- GPS not switched on
- voluntary GPS shutdown
- failure to comply with the Race Director's instructions;
- use of a means of transport ;
- failure to assist a competitor in difficulty ;
- personal assistance outside the official feed zones ;
- failure to comply with the ban on being accompanied on the course ;
- pollution or degradation of the sites by the competitor or a member of his entourage ;
- insults, rudeness or threats against any member of the organisation or any inhabitant of the region;
- refusal to be examined by an organisation doctor at any time during the event;
- doping or refusal to submit to doping control.

1.21 : CLAIMS

Any complaint by a competitor must be made to the Race Director within 12 hours of the provisional results being posted.

1.22: DOPING CONTROL

Any competitor may be subject to doping control during or at the finish of the SAHARA ALGERIA TREG®. Refusal to take part will result in immediate disqualification.

1.23: RACE JURY

It consists of :

- of the organiser ;
- the race director ;
- the safety coordinator
- the head of the medical team ;
- those responsible for the PC's concerned;
- as well as any competent person at the discretion of the Organising Committee.

The jury is empowered to rule on all disputes or disqualifications arising during the event within a time limit compatible with the imperatives of the race. All decisions are final.

1.24 : CHANGES to the course or time limits CANCELLATION of the race

The organisers reserve the right to change the route and the location of checkpoints, aid stations and refreshment posts at any time without prior notice.

If the weather conditions are too unfavourable, starts may be postponed depending on the stage concerned. The organisers will do their utmost to organise the start of each stage, even if it is shortened, with due regard for the safety of competitors. If no solution is found, one or more stages may be cancelled.

In the event of adverse weather conditions, and for safety reasons, the organisers reserve the right to cancel and/or stop the stage in progress, or to modify the time limits.

Cancellation, postponement or modification of one or more stages does not entitle the participant to any reimbursement.

All decisions will be taken by a jury comprising at least the race director, the organiser and the safety coordinator, as well as any other competent person at the discretion of the Organising Committee.

1.25 : INSURANCE

The organiser shall take out Civil Liability insurance with an insurance company for the duration of the event. This civil liability insurance covers the financial consequences of the organiser's liability, that of its employees and that of the participants.

The organiser will provide each runner or accompanying person with repatriation and medical assistance insurance taken out with an organisation such as Europ Assistance.

The insurance agreement mentioned above will be supplied to each competitor on request as soon as registration has been confirmed.

1.26 : ROADBOOK AND ORIENTATION ON THE COURSE

A detailed description of the route for each stage will be provided when you pick up your bib. It includes practical information such as deadlines, PC's etc. A single copy of this booklet will be given exclusively to registrants, either in digital form or on paper.

A portable GPS (with spare batteries) will be provided to each runner with the integrated waypoints of the course to be followed. Training in the use of this GPS will be given on Sunday 27 October 2024. The competitor acknowledges that he/she is familiar with the principles of using a GPS navigation system suitable for trekking and undertakes to take part in the user training given before the race. Competitors must switch on their GPS before the start of each stage and undertake not to switch it off during the race. Competitors undertake not to voluntarily leave the race route included in the GPS and in particular not to take shortcuts that could jeopardise their safety.

Runners undertake to switch on their GPS and not to rely on other competitors to guide them.

The portable GPS must be returned to the organiser at the end of the last stage of the event. A deposit cheque for €250 will be requested to guarantee the correct return of this equipment and will be cashed if it is not returned at the end of the event.

1.27: RANKINGS AND AWARDS

All competitors present at the event will be ranked. No cash prizes will be awarded; all "Finisher" runners will receive the same specific prize.

An overall classification for men and women and a classification for each category will be drawn up for each event. The male and female winners of each race will receive a trophy and/or a prize.

The categories classified are :

- Espoir M & F
- Senior M & F
- Master 1 to 10 M & F

Details of the prizes will be available on request when the bibs are handed out.

"Finisher" means all the participants in the general classification at the end of the last stage. The classification for each stage will be based on the time taken by the competitor to complete the stage. The overall classification will be based on the total time taken on each stage, with the winner being the competitor with the lowest total time. A competitor who does not finish (or who is out of time) will be allowed to start the next stage but will be given the maximum time allowed to complete the stage plus an hour's penalty for each stage not completed.
