A medical certificate less than one year old is required for all runners, as well as an ECG (electrocardiogram) or an effort test according to the following rules:

- a resting electrocardiogram dated less than two years before the start of the race and showing no abnormalities for runners entered in the 54 km race or as hikers or who are under 40 years of age
- a stress test carried out less than two years before the start of the race, with no abnormalities, for runners entered in the 90 or 180 km race who are over 40 years of age,

The medical certificate and ECG (electrocardiogram) must be sent to Isabelle Paucot by e-mail to i.paucot@le-treg.com by 31 December 2024. After this date, registration will be cancelled and the registration fee forfeited.

In addition, runners must take the originals or a FULL copy of the documents (ECG / stress test) with them to the individual medical briefing.

It is important that you take the start of the TREG® in perfect physical condition, as a latent ailment can worsen considerably in the extreme conditions of the event, making rescue even more difficult. The competitor undertakes to inform the medical team of any health problem, however minor, that he or she has encountered.

1.12: TECHNICAL AND MEDICAL CHECKS

Technical and medical checks will take place on Monday 17 February 2025 at the accommodation venue. Each competitor must present his compulsory equipment to the organisers, i.e. his race gear and medical kit.

Any runner who is not in possession of all his compulsory equipment will be immediately disqualified, without any possibility of appealing against this decision and without reimbursement of any expenses incurred.

1.13: NUMBER BIBS

The race number must be worn on the chest or stomach and must be visible at all times throughout the race. It must therefore always be worn above any item of clothing and under no circumstances may it be attached to a bag or a leg. Partners' names and logos must not be altered or hidden.

1.14 : SATELLITE BEACONS FOR SAFETY AND TIMEKEEPING

When the race numbers are handed out, a satellite beacon is given individually to each runner for timing purposes and personal safety. The beacon must be placed as stipulated in the technical instructions. Each runner is responsible for the correct use of the beacon. A runner cannot be tracked by satellite, nor timed, in the following cases:

- tag not carried ;
- beacon not lit
- loss of beacon ;
- degradation of the beacon ;
- beacon not worn correctly.

The competitor undertakes:

- to attend the briefing on the use of the satellite beacon.
- to carry with them during the race, with the satellite beacon permanently switched on and in their bag,
- to take with them the memo on how to use the beacon provided by the organiser.

Competitors are also fully aware that their position will not be known to the organisers if they remain in a cave, cavern or narrow canyon for any length of time. In order to be located, the competitor must be visible to satellites under a widely visible sky.

1.15: RUNNERS' LUGGAGE

Each competitor must bring their own travel bag for their personal belongings (change of clothes, toiletries, etc.) and, if necessary, their race bag. The total weight of your luggage must not exceed 20 kg for your main bag and 5 kg for your hand luggage. We recommend that you do not put any valuables in it. Luggage is the responsibility of the participants throughout their stay. You are advised not to leave anything visible in your luggage, particularly mobile phones.

1.16: CONTROL AND EMERGENCY STATIONS

On the route, runners must pass through checkpoints (PC's) located approximately every 20 to 30 km along the route. These control stations will have several functions:

- they will allow competitors to refuel with water (up to a limit of 3 or 4 litres/person);
- They will be equipped with mattresses for competitors to rest on;
- they will provide medical assistance for competitors.

1.17: SAFETY AND MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

A doctor and an IADE nurse specialised in this type of event will be present throughout the race. A flying vehicle will follow the race with the doctor on board in telephone contact with the PC's and will be able to intervene as quickly as possible.

Emergency personnel are responsible for providing assistance to any person in danger, using the organisation's own resources. The official doctors are authorised to withdraw from the race (by invalidating the number) any competitor who is unfit to continue the race. The first aiders are empowered to evacuate any runners they deem to be in danger by any means at their disposal.

If necessary, for reasons that are always in the interests of the rescued person, the operations management will use all appropriate means to evacuate the person. The costs resulting from the use of these exceptional means will be borne by the rescued person. He or she may then submit a claim to his or her personal accident insurance.

Any runner who calls on the services of a doctor, nurse or first-aiders submits to their authority and agrees to accept their decisions.

Competitors are aware that in the event of extreme fatigue, their behaviour and decisions may be altered. It is the competitor's responsibility not to reach this state. The organisers cannot be held responsible for the consequences of any absurd or inconsistent decisions made by the competitor.

1.18: CLIMATIC CONDITIONS

Average temperatures in February: 35°C during the day, 10°C at night.

Exceptional climatic phenomena involving intense heat (> 40°C) may occur

1.19: MAXIMUM AUTHORISED TIME AND TIME BARRIERS

A maximum time for completing the entire course is set for each TREG® event. The maximum times allowed are :

- for TREG® : 72 hours ;
- for Half TREG® : 36 hours ;
- for the TREG® Marathon: 18 hours.

These maximum times will be set so that a hardy hiker can complete each race. Time limits for the start of the PC's (time barriers) will also be defined and communicated in the RoadBook.

These time limits are calculated to enable participants to reach the finish within the maximum time limit, while making any necessary stops (rest, treatment, etc.). To be authorised to continue the race, competitors must leave a PC before the set time limit (whatever the time of arrival at the PC).

The organiser reserves the right to derogate from these rules in exceptional circumstances (e.g. a competitor being late because he is helping another competitor, specific race conditions, etc.).

Any competitor who abandons the race or is disqualified will be repatriated by vehicle or minibus to the finish bivouac within a time limit that the organisers cannot guarantee. Under no circumstances may they be considered as "Finishers".

In the event of adverse weather conditions and/or for safety reasons, the organisers reserve the right to cancel and/or stop the event in progress, or to modify the time limits.

1.20: ABANDONMENT AND REPATRIATION

Except in the case of injury, a runner must not abandon the race other than at a PC. In this case, he must inform the person in charge of the PC, who will be responsible for organising his repatriation by 4x4 vehicle to the finish bivouac where possible.

In the event of unfavourable weather conditions justifying the partial or total stoppage of the race, the organisers will repatriate the runners who have been stopped as quickly as possible.

If a competitor is forced to abandon between 2 PC's due to a physical or mental breakdown, he/she (or another competitor helping him/her) must use the "Help wanted" function on his/her satellite beacon to inform the race organisers.

1.21: PENALTIES - DISQUALIFICATION

Inspectors on the course are authorised to check the compulsory equipment and, more generally, compliance with the rules (respect for the sites, ethics, illegal assistance or accompaniment, number not visible on the front at all times, etc.).

Any runner who is not in possession of all his compulsory equipment at a checkpoint on the course will be immediately disqualified, with no possibility of appealing against this decision.

A minimum penalty of 6 hours will be applied for any other breach of the rules.

The scrutineer informs the race HQ and, depending on the seriousness of the act and the runner's behaviour, may request that the competitor be disqualified. The race jury may disqualify a competitor for any serious breach of the rules, in particular in the event of :

- wearing the wrong number ;
- no identity document ;
- GPS not switched on ;
- voluntary GPS shutdown ;
- failure to comply with instructions given by the PC ;
- use of a means of transport ;
- departure of a PC after the time limit ;
- no score at the PC's ;
- failure to assist a competitor in difficulty ;
- personal assistance outside the official feed zones ;
- failure to comply with the ban on being accompanied on the course ;
- pollution or degradation of the sites by the competitor or a member of his entourage ;
- insults, rudeness or threats against members of the organisation or local residents;
- refusal to be examined by an organisation doctor at any time during the event;
- doping or refusal to submit to doping control.

1.22 : CLAIMS

Any complaint by a competitor must be made in writing to the Race Director within 12 hours of the provisional results being posted.

1.23: DOPING CONTROL

Any competitor may be subject to a doping control during or at the finish of one of the TREG® events. Refusal to undergo the test will result in immediate disqualification.

1.24 : TEST JURY

CONSISTS OF :

- of the organiser ;
- the race director ;
- the head of the medical team ;
- those responsible for the PC's concerned;
- as well as any competent person at the discretion of the Organising Committee.

The jury is empowered to rule on any disputes or disqualifications arising during the event within a time limit compatible with the imperatives of the race. All decisions are final.

1.25 : CHANGES TO THE COURSE OR TIME LIMITS

CANCELLATION OF THE RACE

The organisers reserve the right to change the route and the location of checkpoints, aid stations and refreshment posts at any time without prior notice.

In the event of excessively adverse weather conditions (wind, storm, etc.), starts may or may not be postponed, depending on the race concerned. The organisers will do their utmost to organise the start of each event, even if it is shortened, with due regard for the safety of competitors, even if it means transferring runners from one event to another. If no solution is found, the races may be cancelled.

In the event of adverse weather conditions, and for safety reasons, the organisers reserve the right to cancel and/or stop events in progress, or even to modify the time limits.

Cancellation, postponement or modification of the race does not entitle the participant to any reimbursement.

All decisions will be taken by a jury comprising at least the race director, the organiser and the safety coordinator, as well as any other competent person at the discretion of the Organising Committee.

1.26 : INSURANCE

The organiser has taken out Civil Liability insurance with an insurance company to cover the financial consequences of its liability and that of its employees and participants in connection with its events.

The organiser will provide each runner or accompanying person with repatriation and medical assistance insurance taken out with an organisation such as Mondial Assistance.

The insurance agreement mentioned above will be supplied to each competitor on request as soon as registration has been confirmed.

1.27 : ROADBOOK AND ORIENTATION ON THE COURSE

A detailed description of the route is given when the bibs are handed out. It includes practical information such as cut-off times, PCs (refreshment and rest areas, first-aid posts), etc. Only one copy of this booklet will be given to registrants.

A portable GPS (with spare batteries) will be provided to each runner with the integrated waypoints of the route to be followed. Training in the use of this GPS will be given on Monday 17 February 2025 at the Bivouac. The competitor acknowledges that he/she is familiar with the principles of using a GPS navigation system suitable for trekking and undertakes to take part in the training given on the bivouac. Competitors must switch on their GPS before the start of the race and undertake not to switch it off during the race. Competitors undertake not to voluntarily leave the race route included in the GPS and in particular not to take shortcuts. Doing so could jeopardise their safety.

A satellite tracking beacon with emergency call will also be provided for the safety of each runner. They undertake to leave it switched on at all times, to make sure during the race that it is correctly positioned at the top of their bag and they understand that it is activated by pressing one of the call buttons for 3 seconds. The competitor is also aware that the beacon signal cannot be emitted inside a cave or under a rock or very close to a large rock. Similarly, the competitor undertakes to switch on his GPS and not to rely on other competitors to guide him.

The portable GPS and the satellite beacon must be returned to the organiser at the end of the event. A deposit cheque for €500 will be requested to guarantee the correct return of this equipment and will be cashed if it is not returned at the end of the event.

1.28: RANKINGS AND AWARDS

Only runners crossing the finish line of the races in which they are taking part will be classified. No cash prizes will be awarded (except for local runners) and all "Finisher" runners will receive the same specific prize.
